*Just

The school year of 1973-74 was just one year in the many centuries of the past and future. But, each year holds events that make it different from all other years, and the year of 1973-74 was no exception.

In 1973-74, South Barber High School opened its doors, for the first time, to welcome students from the Kiowa, Hardtner and Hazelton area. The million dollar structure was transformed from a building to a school of students and happenings.

While students participated in school events, the nation was involved in major occurrences that made each student stop and consider his life and the lives of others.

The wheat sale to Russia, which raised wheat prices and threatened shortages, was an incident that contributed to the inflation problems of the United States.

It was a year of turmoil in the government generated by the Watergate scandal, Vice-President Agnew's resignation and consideration by Congress to start impeachment procedures against President Nixon.

The Middle East War shortened the oil supply to the United States which forced measures to conserve energy. Daylight Savings Time, lower room temperatures, gas rationing, car pools and a 55-mile per hour speed limit all became necessary to fight the energy shortage.

The year of 1973-74 was also a year of achievements and excitement for South Barber High. Students excelled in sports, drama, scholastics, music and art.

1 One result in rising prices is the $8 to $9 increase in cost of a 20-meal lunch ticket. Secretary Jane Sibley punches James Duvall's ticket.

2 Fuel shortages cause gas prices to soar. Tony Lawson prepares to fuel a customer's vehicle.

3 Dorothy Houston chooses to wear her coat when schools are notified to lower room temperatures to 68°.

4 Superintendent Paul Nelson welcomes Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Stevens to the school's open house January 20.

5 Kim Forester studies a Watergate poster made for government class.

Special projects, parties and activities were part of the various club functions.

The music of Alice Cooper, the book, THE EXORCIST, movies and dances were forms of entertainment for the year. Clothes were casual, designed for individuality, and shoes were anything you could get on your feet.

This was just one year, different from any other year. This was the year of 1973-74.

Communicating

The English department strives for improvements in understanding and competence in the use of the English language. Study of linguistic grammar, literary works, written compositions, themes and speech activities aid students.

Dee Debano and Becky Hedges perform a duet act which they enter in speech festivals.

Preparing

The home economics department prepares students for a satisfying personal, home and community life. A course in consumer's education enables students to experiment with sound buying practices.

Homa Lea Houston and Barb Kille dine at one of the international meals prepared by Home Ec. IV students.

Growing

The vocational agriculture department stresses the need to understand the importance of agriculture and its related fields. Students discover agriculture through Farm Power Machines, Soils and Crops, Introduction to Agriculture, Animal Science and Agricultural Mechanics classes.

Brad Fox and Steve Sterling judge livestock at the South Barber FFA Livestock Judging Contest.

Participating

The social science department involves students in the study of American history, United States government, psychology and vocations. Students learn from the past and investigate the functions of today's government. Psychology and vocations are combined to place emphasis upon the individual and his emotions, as well as his future.

A collage poster on current events is one of Brenda Tucker's projects for government.

Building

The major objectives of the industrial arts department are to provide information and skills which are related to the industrial world. Four major areas of study are presented in the department: woodworking, mechanical and architectural drawing, electricity and metalworking.

Training

To aid students in business, college and personal work, the business department offers typing, office machines, shorthand and bookkeeping. After gaining new skills in business, students have opportunities to use their skills outside the classroom.

Understanding

In Spanish classes, students not only strive to learn the Spanish language, but also try to gain insight into the life, manners and culture of people who live in different parts of the world.

Reasoning

Learning to think and reason in a logical manner is the basic objective of the math department. Math classes are offered to those who will further their education and those who wish to use it for ordinary life situations.

Discovering

The library provides services to the faculty and students by supplementing and expanding classroom activities, opening new interest through media and providing a relaxed, comfortable study center.

Experimenting

The science department strives to create an awareness of nature and its laws with an understanding and appreciation of plant and animal life. Students develop a love for nature through a study of physics, chemistry, biology and earth science.

1 Cindy Ricke and Pauline Ruiz run off a stencil prepared in office machines.

2 Tammy Holcomb, Debbie Michel, Robbie Reed and Susan Helmley use puppets to practice Spanish dialogues.

3 Karen Stevens works out a proof in geometry.

4 Emily Sutton leafs through one of the many magazines found in the library.

5 Katie Blunk experiments to determine the coefficient of friction in physics.

Developing

Students advance in their quest for understanding by acquiring skills in driver and physical education. Driver education provides the basic instruction in operation and control of the automobile plus a knowledge of the rules of the road.

Swimming, softball, bowling, archery and gymnastics promote physical fitness in outside and inside activities.

Creating

The main goal of the art department is the development of art appreciation within the student. Pencil drawings, sculpture, painting and printing are areas of creativity by the students.

Jan Wiedman creates a modern design with acrylic paint.

Expressing

The music department allows students to express themselves through their talents of voice and instruments.

Band members Lisa Redfield and Jill Wilhite find fun and satisfaction through music.

Gridiron victory; dance highlight homecoming

Homecoming 1973 began October 5 as a swarming crowd circled the field and squeezed into packed stands. Pre-game festivities included introduction of the court, with Jo Schrock selected as the first SBHS homecoming queen.

The unbeaten Chieftains then ground out a 32-3 victory over the Waynoka Railroaders. An exhausted, but happy crowd attended the dance which followed the game.

1 Junior attendant Ronda Reed helps escort Ron Molz pin on her corsage.
2 After being crowned and given roses and a kiss, Queen Jo Schrock takes the royal ride around the football field.

3 Candidates Brenda Tucker and Norma Terry congratulate Jo Schrock after the coronation.

4 Queen Jo Schrock and her escort Fred Gillig enjoy dancing to the music of the band "Israfel."

5 Jill Wilhite, Homa Le a Houston and Cindy Ricke decorate the commons area for homecoming which is sponsored by Pep Club.

Basketball homecoming queen reigns over game and dance

Pauline Ruiz became the 1974 basketball homecoming queen during ceremonies which preceded the varsity game with Burrton February 1. Pauline was escorted by Tony Watts who presented her a bouquet of roses and the royal crown, robe and scepter.

1 Homa Lea Houston hastily pins the queen's name on the royal backdrop.
2 Candidate Barb Kille receives her corsage from escort Bret Spicer.
3 Candidate Karen Kimmell is escorted onto the court by Jack Blevins.
4 Homecoming festivities are climaxed by a StuCo-sponsored dance in the commons area after the game. Students dance to live music provided by Israfel.
5 The announcement of Pauline Ruiz as the '74 basketball queen causes one instant of nervous shock followed by tears of joy.
6 Pauline receives the royal kiss from escort Tony Watts.

Miss South Barber displays talent

Katie Blunk represented South Barber High School in the annual Miss Cinderella Pageant at Northwestern State College in Alva, October 19-20.

Miss South Barber was among thirty area girls competing in talent, beauty and poise for the title. She participated in several activities including a tea, talent contest and the homecoming parade.

1 As her talent, Katie presents an original narrative and piano solo entitled "Music, American Style." Included in the medley are "Chicago" and several of Gershwin's more popular numbers.

2 & 3 Candidates Jan Wiedman, playing a piano selection, and Dana Shklar, singing "Raindrops Keep Falling on my Head," entertain the student body and faculty. After their presentations, the entire group elects Miss South Barber by secret ballot.

Seniors; juniors present "Who Says We Can't"

The first stage production ever presented in the auditorium was the junior-senior play, "Who Says We Can't." This three-act play revolved around a family of three teenagers and a provisional teenager (Bugsy was eleven going on thirteen). The Rowan family, orphaned when their parents were killed in a car accident, were left facing the problems of agencies such as the Welfare Department, State Department of Education and the Zoning Department.

The play, presented on December 20, was directed by Harlan Hinds who was assisted by Brenda Tucker.

CAST--Standing: Mr. Hinds, director; Karen Kimmell, Martha; Brenda Tucker, assistant director; Mike Ward, Joey; Tony Watts, George Rowan; Jack Langham, policeman and Joe Niemeier; Kirk Lieurance, Sandy McPherson; Brenda Robinson, Mrs. Lindquist; Barbie Kille, Aunt Felicity; Kim Smith, Mrs. Brady; Barbara Gillig, Kate Dugan; Pam Johnesse, Miss Eberhart; Cindy Molz, Miss Perry; Robert Holmes, juvenile officer and Mr. Rodgers; David Grant, Mr. Kelly; Alan Ott, Wells Wentworth; Fred Gillig, Mr. Stryker. Kneeling: Dana Shklar, Sue Rowan; Jo Schrock, Janie Rowan; Denise Beason, Bugsy Rowan.

1 Aunt Felicity checks to make sure her plan has worked for Sandy and Janie.

2 Bugsy cuffs Mr. Rodgers as she says, "Mr. Policeman, take this man to jail."

3 Representatives from state and local agencies are waiting for appointments with Mr. Green who turns out to be a parrot.

4 Bugsy and Wamba are "awfully glad" to see Aunt Felicity.

5 After George loses a job because he is too young, Aunt Felicity adds, "Oh well, George, you were probably too puny for the job anyway."

Juniors host banquet, prom

Arriving for "Saturday in the Park," the guests for the junior-senior banquet and prom were greeted by a happy clown. Guests entered the "park" through an archway of greenery and flowers, from the center of which hung a silver ball. A swing surrounded by flowers was one of the focal points in which strollers could rest. A fountain sprayed water into a pond of live goldfish. The bandstand and a zoo completed the decorations.

The banquet was served on tables covered with checkered tablecloths by sophomores. Clusters of helium-filled balloons were centered on each table. Bud Humphrey was the special speaker.

For the prom, students and their dates danced to music by Sundance. Mothers of juniors served punch and cookies. It was a delightful place to spend a Saturday.

Honors bestowed on students

Combining leadership, citizenship, and scholarship, students achieved success with individual honors and awards. Students excelled in academics, music and athletics. Involving themselves in many activities, students strove for self-betterment and concern for others.

Band is musical delight

South Barber High's musical delight is its instrumental music department. The band was present at all pep rallies and home games to boost school spirit. They also marched in the peace treaty parade at Medicine Lodge.

At the MAL instrumental music festival at Pretty Prairie no band ratings were given, but the judge was highly complimentary of South Barber's band. The following ratings were received by groups at the league and state festivals: Clarinet Choir I, I; Sax Quartet I, II; Trumpet Octet I, II; Brass Trio (state) II; and Concert Band II. Special honors were placed on Pam Johnessee and Mike Ward who were selected for the District V band.

Hi-Y relaxes at Wichita fun day

Hi-Y is a young men's group that is to help create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian living. The combining service with personal growth and recreation has helped to further their goals and understanding.

The Hi-Y sponsored a soup supper and sold Chief-tain car stickers to help raise money for their club.

After all the hard work and effort that went into making this group more successful, the group took some time out for a trip to Wichita where they went ice skating at the Fun Center, enjoyed the movie, "Sting," and ate pizza before returning home.

Hi-Y--Back Row: Mr. McGinley, J. Blevins, J. Jacobs, B. Ridgway, B. Spicer, K. Lieurance. Third Row: M. Anderson, D. Parscal, D. Tasker, F. Gillig, S. Sibley, L. Eckert. Second Row: C. McKinney, S. - 2 Students Steve Sterling and Joni Bergren have their tea glasses refilled by Alan Ott.
- 3 A good crowd makes the soup supper very successful.

Y-teens have varied activities

Challenged by the idealistic goals of growing religiously, developing individuality and extending friendships, Y-teen members plunged into an activity-filled year. The year started off with the sale of magazine subscriptions.

The Y-teens sponsored a Christmas party for the kindergarteners. Service projects were providing volunteers to collect for the Heart Fund and a donation to the South Central Association for Retarded Children. For pleasure, the girls enjoyed Mystery Sister Week and a skating party. The Y-teens closed the year with a Mother-Daughter banquet.

Y-TEENS--Back Row: J. Schrock, K. Kimmell, K. Forester, K. Smith, L. Garner, B. Tucker, H. Houston, C. Ricke, P. Ruiz, J. Wiedman. Fifth Row: R. Reed, N. Terry, B. Robinson, D. Beason, B. Gillig, L. FHA discusses future

Future Homemakers of America or FHA was a new organization this year. Membership was open to any student who was in or had taken a home economics course.

The organization's activities for the year included studies of what to do after high school. This was divided into three categories: college, careers and marriage. The activities involved field trips and speakers.

Staff designs yearbook

The yearbook staff has worked hard and efficiently to make the school's first yearbook one to be remembered.

The staff, with Mary Hyde as editor, was confronted with decisions concerning everything from theme and cover design to the number of pages for the book. The staff decided to add some color to the yearbook. Also, the dimensions of the book were enlarged to provide more space.

The yearbook staff hopes that the memories for the first year for our school lie within these covers.

YEARBOOK STAFF--Standing: M. Williams, A. Toland, D. Whitfill, M. Ward, M. Demaray, L. Bonnewell, N. Terry, C. Smith. Seated: K. Terwort, C. Ricke, C. Davis, B. Robinson, M. Hyde, D. Shklar, P. Johnesee, S. Province, M. Patterson.

- 1 Prospective members for the Chieftain staff attend a coke party to see if they are interested in joining the staff.
- 2 Annette Toland, Mary Hyde, and Michele Patterson take a lunch break while selling yearbook advertisements.

- 1 Debbie Coulter attempts to clean a catfish as she vies for the honor of Chapter Sweetheart.
- 2 FFA supervised vocational agricultural projects are conducted on 2 1/2 acres of farmland owned by Virgil Schwerdtfeger and leased to USD 255 at no cost.
- 3 Driving nails is part of the competition for Debbie Coulter, Pam Swafford and Barbara Gillig, candidates for FFA Sweetheart.
- 4 Kent Harbaugh receives his team's trophy for winning second place in South Barber Livestock Judging contest.
- 5 FFA member Bret Spicer is auctioned off at the annual slave auction.
- 6 Seniors Homa Lea Houston, Kim Forester and Karen Kimmel pose with roses received during FFA Sweetheart contest.

• FFA judges in contests

Future Farmers of America began the year with the Chapter Sweetheart contest. Junior Debbie Coulter and senior Kim Forester won the honors of serving as Chapter Co-sweethearts.

For a money-making project, the group sold FFA members in a slave auction.

FFA members participated in dairy, livestock, barrow, meats and agricultural judging contests across the state. They also attended the Greenhand conference in Kingman and the district awards banquet at Hutchinson.

For service projects the FFA served at the Kiowa Co-op banquet, sanded a bus for the Kiowa Chamber of Commerce and attended church as a group.

Under the guidance of the advisory council, the FFA has broadened its activities. Support was also given to the group by Merle Gates (donated two registered Duroc gilts), John Parrish (donated a 760 pound Hereford steer) and an anonymous donor (gave $200 on FFA banquet).

Activities at the conclusion of the year included the FFA District Sweetheart contest, the FFA banquet and the state convention at Manhattan.

- 4 FFA members and guests are served in the banquet line.

Staff prepares the news

South Barber's newspaper staff kept everyone informed as well as entertained throughout the year. Each week the 17 members wrote editorials and miscellaneous articles in a section of the weekly newspaper. The composition and literature class was responsible for the articles to be turned in Friday before it was to be put into the paper.

NEWSPAPER STAFF--Standing: D. Grant, K. Blunk, J. Cook, N. Terry, J. Blevins, B. Ridgway, J. Allen, S. Sibley, M. Hyde. Seated: D. Beason, B. Mathis, C. Smith, B. Sanberry, B. Robinson, K. Michel, M. Williams.

FCA sells tags

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes strives to instill in the life of athletes good sportsmanship and devotion to God. Members sold Chieftain car tags for a money-making project. Members also participated in huddle groups and attended various churches in the community for worship.

StuCo sponsors contests

To open the year, Student Council voted to have a contest to select the school song and also set up requirements for the Miss South Barber contest. The talented Katie Blunk won both contests.

StuCo was in charge of the operation of the coke machine in the commons area. They also sponsored basketball homecoming with Pauline Ruiz reigning as queen. A poll was conducted by the group for the cooks to determine likes and dislikes of food in the school menu.

STUDENT COUNCIL--Standing: Mr. Allenbach, B. Ridgway, D. Tasker, F. Gillig, K. Lieurance, A. Ott. Seated: C. Molz, K. Forester, M. Williams, K. Blunk, N. Terry, K. Stevens, P. Ruiz. (Pam Johnesee, second semester.)

Students perfect speech

To tap the potential power of language, speech students strove to perfect their speech and dramatic presentations. Six students participated in the league, district, and state speech festivals.

Pep Club arouses spirit

Arousing school spirit was the main objective of the South Barber High Pep Club this year, but cheering the players on to victory at the games was only a part of the activities of Pep Club members. Before each game, time was taken to make posters and decorate the halls. The week of football playoffs was designated for competition between the classes. The week before we went to basketball sub-state, the Pep Club girls picked one of the basketball boys as a pep pal. Each day the girls put some "goodies" in the guys' lockers. Striving to involve the whole student body, Pep Club sponsored pep rallies, a bonfire, spirit days and football homecoming.

Chiefs reach district playoffs

August brought thirty-one boys together to form the SBHS Chieftain football squad. Hopes were high for the MAL championship. At the end of the season, the Chiefs were undefeated, 9-0, with a victory over the Medicine Lodge Indians and also the MAL championship.

The Chiefs entered the district playoffs with determination to beat the Moundridge Wildcats. Even with superior playing and school and community support and enthusiasm, the mighty Chieftains' power could not tame the soon-to-be state champion Wildcat team. The Chiefs ended a well executed and spirited season with a 9-1 mark.

1 South Barber tri-captains Gillig, Watts and Lieurance meet Waynoka captains for toss of the coin.

2 Quarterback Kirk Lieurance scrambles for yardage.

3 Defensive back Fred Gillig gets instructions from Coaches Taylor and Homier.

4 Chieftain players break the run-through sign with a halftime score of 25-0.

Highlighting the 73-74 basketball season was the MAL tournament championship. The Chieftains, playing their finest basketball, swept to the victory over Garden Plain. The 47-39 victory was the first tournament championship for SBHS.

Other highlights of the season were the victory over Chaparral, the two victories over cross-county rival Medicine Lodge and the advancing to the Sub-State tournament.

The Chieftains placed four players, Bret Spicer, Jack Blevins, Brad Ridgway and Ron Hill, on the MAL team. Bret Spicer was also named to the 2-A All State roster.

SBH track team wins three meets

The South Barber High Chieftain track team exhibited its enthusiasm by its hard work, strenuous practices and long hours.

The boys participated in six track meets plus league, regional and state. The track team won first at Leon, the South Barber Invitational and Chaparral. They brought home second place trophies from Fairfield, Cheney, and the MAL track meet. The team placed fifth at regionals. Five points were scored at state by the medley relay team, composed of Rick Hitchcock, Kirk Lieurance, Scott Mathews and Kent Harbaugh, and by Jack Blevins in the pole vault.

Tennis interest increases during the school year

Girls' tennis season began in September. Five girls participated in five meets including regionals at Pratt. At the regionals, the girls went into the second round of play.

Thirteen boys went out for spring tennis. Meets were held at Conway Springs, Alva and Pratt. Since this was the first year for boys' tennis as a competitive sport, experience was lacking. However, play was greatly improved as the year progressed.

Girls increase sports activities

Girls' volleyball season began in the fall and coincided with the girls' tennis season. Volleyball girls had six sets of games which included A and B games. The highlight of the season was when the team placed third in the regional tournament at Meade. The team brought home the school's first trophy for the trophy case.

As soon as the volleyball season ended, the girls started with basketball. Here the girls proved to be as competitive as their counterparts the boys. Basketball girls played 15 games plus two tournaments. In the Cunningham Invitational, the girls placed second. The Chieftains ended the regular season with 9 wins and 6 losses. Then the girls went on to the regionals where they received the third place trophy.

After a short break in sports' activities, track season began. The track squad participated in four track meets. At the MAL track meet, the squad gained fifth place and qualified eight of the girls to go on to regionals.

Girls' sports became more and more a vital part of our athletic program. The girls involved in the sports program, along with their coach Mrs. Homier, worked hard and exhibited a great amount of enthusiasm.

and Tyra Michel.
2 Mr. and Mrs. Hinds observe while Mrs. Holt supervises photography session after junior-senior play.
3 Mr. Milligan oversees tabulation at the South Barber FFA livestock judging contest.
4 Mr. Simpson and basketball girls relax while boys have their pictures taken.
5 Mrs. McGinley explains library facilities to visitors at SBH open house.

"We often think of ourselves as living in a world which no longer has any unexplored frontiers. We speak of pioneering as a thing of the past. But in doing so we forget that the greatest adventure of all still challenges us--what Mr. Justice Holmes called the adventure of the human mind.' Men may be hemmed in geographically, but every generation stands on the frontiers of the mind. In the world of ideas, there is always pioneering to be done, and it can be done by anyone who will use the equipment with which he is endowed. The great ideas belong to everyone."

These frontiers, spoken of by Mortimer J. Adler, are being made aware to students by members of the faculty. They strive to awaken students to the learning processes and the immense amount of knowledge waiting to be mined.

Seniors live in world of their own

Seniority. . .freshmen dream it, sophomores wish it, juniors anticipate it and seniors have it. "S-S--E-N, I-I--I-O-R, S-E-N--I-O-R, SENIOR" was spoken only from the lips of seniors.

Being the first graduating class of South Barber High, the Class of 1974 was involved in "a world of its own." The 45-member class chose for its colors, black and gold; song, "Time Is My Friend"; flower, yellow rose and motto, "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."

Officers for the senior class were Brenda Tucker, president; Kirk Lieurance, vice president; Jan Wiedman, secretary; Barb Kille, treasurer and Kim Forester, StuCo.

Highlights of the 73-74 year were football and basketball homecoming, winning first in the league in football, junior-senior play, and finally graduation. 1974. . . A year of involvement where "senioritis" prevailed as the class enjoyed a world they had come to know and the beginning of a new world just around the corner.

Seniors part with old friends

1 Salutatorian Kirk Lieurance gets his yellow rose pinned on by Mrs. Bob Rathgeber.

2 Valedictorian Jo Schrock addresses guests and classmates at commencement.

3 Hugo Duque marches in to the commencement exercises.

4 The 1974 graduating class poses for its group picture preceding graduation.

5, 6 & 7 John Allen, Norma Terry and Brenda Tucker receive congratulations from friends and relatives following graduation.

8 Steve Sterling receives his diploma and congratulatory handshake from school board president, Dr. M.D. Christensen.

9 Members of the 1974 class await the entrance of the remaining class members.

To be a junior means . . .

The juniors have completed the first two years of their secondary education. This fact is of great importance. It not only marks survival through the embarrassing situations of freshmanhood and sophomore indifference, but entitles the juniors to enter the glorious kingdom of upperclassmen.

Being a junior means different things to different people. However, there are some things which you do only with your class, things that create your identity as a junior. For this reason we have compiled a few statements that definitely help express what it means to be part of the class of '74. . .

- . . . waiting for the respect entitled you.
- . . . what am I going to wear? how will I get the money?
- . . . a term paper.
- . . . American history tests.
- . . . wishing you were a senior.
- . . . planning the prom.

- 1 Bob Sneary and Kim Smith tissue paper into chicken wire. The result is a beautiful arch of greenery and paper flowers which is used for prom.
- 2 Delbert Abbott sets the table for a Mexican meal prepared by students in consumer education.
- 3 Debbie Coulter unknowingly poses for the photographer when she tries on a sombrero to see how it feels.

Sophomores strive to retain identity

Still beneath the ranks of upperclassmen, but more seasoned than they were as freshmen, sophomores eagerly strove to retain their identity while becoming more involved in the Chieftain world.

Enrolling in the usual second year subjects, students braved the theories and postulates of geometry and became skilled in the art of dissecting frogs.

Marking the halfway point of their high school career, members of the class of '76 displayed their school spirit as they purchased class rings. With their newly acquired knowledge and status, sophomores prepared to enter the next phase on the way to graduation.

- 1 Sophomores Annette Conrad, Debbie Ward and Dee Debano load their plates with goodies at the Pep Club "end of the year" party.
- 2 Sophomores jam the southeast hall as they congregate at lockers between classes.
- 3 Dissecting little creatures is a fascinating task for biology students Tony Sternberger and Scott Rathgeber.

Freshmen stand tall

Not long ago the freshmen were eighth graders--kids standing at the door to adolescence. Now they truck over to SBHS and find themselves among supposed adults. Fortunately, this is a myth at times. The freshmen have seen the experienced fall off their pedestal. But, they still feel small amongst the people who are one, two, or three notches above them on the totem pole. However, the freshmen have found they can beat the system if they stand full stature and approach it like a game--a game they can win not just three but four in a row.

- 1 Lynelle Perry, Debbie Michel, Tammy Holcomb and Robbie Reed appear to be enjoying the "messy, gooey work" of making a pinata in Spanish class.
- 2 Freshmen girls take front row seats at football games where they can cheer the boys on to another victory.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The administration, faculty, and student body of the USD 225 schools wish to express their deepest appreciation to all of the merchants whose advertisements and names appear on these pages. It is the thoughtfulness, sincerity, and cooperation of these public-minded citizens that has made the publication of the 1974 edition of the CHIEFTAIN possible.
Gratefully,
THE CHIEFTAIN YEARBOOK STAFF
